The statistics contained in these rankings are compiled by The Jockey Club Information Systems Inc. (TJCIS). While every effort is made to prevent errors and omissions, California Thoroughbred cannot guarantee their complete and total accuracy. A dagger (†) indicates that a stallion has been pensioned, an asterisk (*) that he has died, a dot (•) that he is now standing elsewhere, a number sign (#) that he did not stand in California in 2011 but is standing in the state in 2012, a double dagger (‡) that he is not standing in California in 2012 but will stand in the state in 2013 and in bold that he is a freshman sire. In all cases, a sire will remain in the rankings until the year after his last California foals are two-year-olds. Statistics cover racing in North America (U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico), England, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates only.

Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton. There are 19 stakes scheduled at the six fair tracks—Pleasanton, Sacramento, Santa Rosa, Ferndale, Stockton, and Fresno—with the first one the $50,000 California Wine Stakes at Pleasanton on June 23.

Each of the fairs except for Ferndale and Stockton offers at least one $75,000 stakes. The bulk of the stakes money will be distributed at Pleasanton ($375,000) and Santa Rosa ($400,000), which will offer seven stakes each.

The 1 5/8-mile Humboldt County Marathon at Ferndale, where runners pass the finish line five times, has had its purse doubled from $15,000 to $30,000 and will be an open race instead of being restricted to lower-level claimers.

Two stakes were not brought back from last year, the Les Mademoiselle at Ferndale, which did not fill last year, and the $75,000 Soviet Problem for two-year-old fillies at Fresno.

“There’s a stakes for two-year-old fillies at Golden Gate a couple weeks later that will be run instead,” fairs racing secretary Tom Doutrich said.

Meet highlights include the $75,000 Sam J. Whiting Memorial (July 4) for older sprinters at Pleasanton, the $75,000 California State Fair Filly and Mare Sprint (July 21) at Sacramento, the $75,000 Cavonnier Juvenile Stakes (August 12) and $75,000 Wine Country Debutante (August 11) for two-year-olds and two-year-old fillies, respectively, at Santa Rosa; and the $75,000 Charlie Palmer Futurity (October 6) for two-year-olds at a mile and $75,000 Bulldog Handicap (October 14) for three-year-olds and up at 1 1/8 miles at the Big Fresno Fair.

Five of the seven stakes at Santa Rosa are scheduled for grass. Santa Rosa is the only fair track with a turf course.

“I think we have a balanced stakes schedule with sprints and routes for older runners and stakes on the turf,” Doutrich said.—continued at www.DRF.com, By Steve Andersen beginning his jumping career and was ridden by owner Haley Abbott. “Benny,” a 16-year-old off-the-track chestnut gelding, who now shows in eventing and hunter/jumper, was ridden by Raeann Magill. “Impala Supersport,” a 21-year-old bay gelding who raced early on in life and went on to be an eventer and now a lesson horse, was ridden by Dana Todd.

“Kati,” a 13-year-old off track bay mare who is now a handy polo horse, was also ridden by Raeann Magill.

Thoroughbreds are popular sport horses because of their adaptability to many events. The most common disciplines for Thoroughbreds are jumping, hunters, dressage and three-day-eventing, as well as polo because of their willingness to “never give up.”

Western riders also use Thoroughbreds for barrel racing and working cows on large ranches as they are able to cover the hills smoothly and efficiently. Thoroughbreds are often used for gymkhana and large city mounted police forces. They are so versatile that they easily adapt to being cart horses, roping horses and trail horses.

Christy Chapman, Leigh Ann Howard, Nancy Easton and Marte Miller spoke with hundreds of attendees throughout the event. Many attendees told stories of rescue and rehab of horses coming off the race-track. Attendees were educated on the various venues for horse racing in California, live racing was showcased on a tv in the booth, a Belmont Stakes viewing party was hosted with special guest Kate Chenery Tweedy, various aspects of betting were discussed, and attendees were encouraged to become members of CTBA and to also become breeders to support Thoroughbred racing in California.

Many registration questions were answered concerning Thoroughbreds in California. Attendees were also assisted with finding information on the various organizations within the Thoroughbred industry.

The event was well attended.

The Expo showcased many different horse breeds. Breed demonstrations, clinics and seminars commenced all three days in seven arenas for ten hours each day. Some of the clinicians included: Shannon Dueck, Steve Rother, Dana Hokana, Bree Krabel, Jim Masterson, Larry Whitesell, Tim Kimura, Christy Landwehr and Bernie Traurig along with various seminars and demonstrations from veterinarians from UC Davis, an equine chiropractor, Project Cowgirl, 4-H clubs and many other horse breeds.—By Christy Chapman, CTBA Events Coordinator

Harris Farms Shares the Vision.

Breeding and Racing in California for more than four decades

Big Jess

In 1966, Jack Harris and his 23-year-old son John made the decision to allocate a 60-acre section of the Harris Ranch farming and cattle operation in Coalinga to a new livestock venture, Thoroughbred racing. It was the beginning of a lifelong dream spanning three generations of horsemen.

Over the years, the Harris Farms horse division has enjoyed high levels of success on the racetrack and in the breeding shed, accounting for three of the five California-bred victories in the Breeders' Cup, at least 30 California divisional champions, 20 California Cup champions and six horse-of-the-year honors for the farm and its clients.

Harris Farms began its Coalinga farming operation in 1937, and is proud to celebrate its 75th Anniversary with CTBA.

I'll Have Another Retired

Someday there may be another Triple Crown winner, but it won't be I'll Have Another.

In news that was as shocking in its timing as for its substance, I'll Have Another was not only scratched from Saturday's Belmont Stakes, but was retired from racing with an injury to the tendon in his left foreleg.

I'll Have Another joins Burgoo King (1932) and Bold Venture (1936) as the only horses to have won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, but not compete in the Belmont. —continued at www.DRF.com, By David Grening

Project To Identify At-Risk Horses Announced

The Jockey Club June 13 announced plans to develop a statistics-based system that would notify track officials and regulatory veterinarians when a horse who has been entered in a race is facing a heightened risk of injury.

Dr. Tim Parkin, a noted epidemiologist from the University of Glasgow who has conducted research and studies on Thoroughbreds in the United Kingdom and Hong Kong, is currently developing the protocols, which are based on The Jockey Club's Equine Injury Database. The project is expected to be complete in August 2012.

"This project provides us with an exciting opportunity to identify the top risk profiles and focus our interventions on the horses that fit those profiles," said Dr. Parkin, who made a presentation on the potential of such a system at The Jockey Club's Round Table Conference on Matters Pertaining to Racing in Saratoga Springs, New York, in August 2011. ## Belmont Ratings Up With 7.67 Million Viewers

NBC's broadcast of the Belmont Stakes, which was won by Union Rags, drew 7.67 million viewers, a gain of 12 percent from last year's race (6.84 million on NBC), and up 62 percent from the 2010 race (4.74 million on ABC). Saturday's Belmont was the most-watched in a non-Triple Crown year since 2005 on NBC, less than one percent lower than the 7.71 million that year, according to official national data provided Tuesday by The Nielsen Company.

The race portion of the Belmont (6:13-6:58 p.m. (EDT)) registered a 4.8/11 national household rating, 12 percent higher than last year's 4.3/10 on NBC and 60 percent higher than the 2010 Belmont (3.0/7 on ABC).

The pre-race (5-6:13), bolstered by a 90-minute Belmont Access show on NBC Sports Network that preceded the NBC broadcast, drew 4.35 million viewers, up 27 percent from last year (3.43 million on NBC) and up 129 percent from the 2010 pre-race on ABC (1.90 million). ## CTBA Features New Format For Magazine's Foal Photos

Starting with the April 2012 issue of California Thoroughbred, the official publication of the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association (CTBA), this year's crop of foals born in the Golden State will be included as full-page advertorials with each page featuring six foals from a specific Thoroughbred farm, including detailed information on every foal and that facility.

For this service, a fee of $500 per page will be charged, representing a discount of more than 50 percent on the cost of a regular full-page advertisement in the monthly magazine.

The deadline for submitting photos of California-bred foals located at one farm in sets of six for a particular issue will be the first of the month prior to that magazine; Friday, June 8 for the July issue; Monday, July 9 for the August issue; and Monday, August 6 for the September issue. All photos submitted need to be at a high quality resolution of at least 300 dpi and include the details of the foal's sire, dam, sex, date of birth and breeder, and the magazine reserves the right to request a replacement image.

For further information about this new innovation, please contact either the magazine's Managing Editor, Rudi Groothedde, at rudi@ctba.com, or its Advertising Manager, Loretta Veiga, at Loretta@ctba.com. Additionally, breeders and farms are still welcome to submit individual photos of their 2012 foals for inclusion on the CTBA's web site, www.ctba.com, copies of which can be sent to its Managing Editor, Ken Gurnick, at kgurnick@ctba.com.

Nutritional Considerations For Weanlings

Young horses are considered weanlings from the time they're separated from their mothers until one year of age. This is a critical time in the young horse's life, and nutrition plays an important part. Here are four important points to consider when feeding a weanling:

Nutritional Needs: From the time foals are weaned to the time they turn one, the young horse is considered to be on the highest nutritional plane of its life. Weanlings consume approximately three percent of their body weight in dry matter per day. Key components in the weanling's diet include:

Energy is needed to promote the growth and development of the young horse. Weanlings that consume too much energy will grow too fast, while too little energy will slow their growth. Both scenarios can put weanlings at risk for developmental orthopedic disorders. Consult a veterinarian or equine nutritionist to determine the ideal amount of energy for each weanling

High-quality protein is essential for muscle, ligament, and tissue development. Diets low in lysine will slow growth rate and decrease feed efficiency. The recommended amount of lysine in the diet of a young horse is five to six percent, so ensure weanlings' feed contains a quality source of lysine.

Treat Each Horse Individually: Regardless of breed or sex, each weanling should be individually monitored and fed according to their needs. Feeding each young horse on an individual basis will not only allow you to keep your feeding costs as low as possible, but also create the best nutritional plan for each animal.

Stress and Decreased Feed Intake: Weaning is an extremely stressful time for young horses. This stress is usually accompanied by a decrease in daily intake of food and slowed growth. —continued at www.theHorse.com, By Erica Larson, News Editor

Heart Rate Variability To Detect Equine Transport Stress

A fear of flying can lead to such extreme stress that many people find themselves unable to board an airplane. While horses aren't likely to show a true "fear of flying," they are undoubtedly stressed by air travel, according to a recently completed study of in-flight horses.

In addition to revealing stress levels of horses during air and road transport, the study led by Hajime Ohmura, DVM, PhD, of the Japan Racing Association's Equine Research Institute, also provided the researchers an opportunity to better evaluate the usefulness of heart rate variability (HRV) in analyzing equine stress.

Using an electrocardiogram, Ohmura et al. measured heart rate and heart rate variability of six healthy Warmblood horses during:

- A 24-hour pre-transportation quarantine;
- A 4 1/2-hour trailer ride;
- A five-hour waiting period after the trailer ride; and
- An 11-hour flight.

The team found that both air travel and road travel both caused major spikes in the heart rate of study horses compared to rest in quarantine. —continued at www.theHorse.com, By Christa Lesté-Lasserre

Results of Standing Fracture Repair In Racehorses Examined

The inherent risks and costs associated with general anesthesia have led to an increase in the number of surgical procedures performed under standing sedation. Risks of general anesthesia include injury during recovery, cardiorespiratory collapse, and reduced blood flow, among others.

This type of surgery appears to offer advantages for the horse, the surgeon, and the owner, leading a pair of veterinarians from Rossdale Equine Hospital in Newmarket, England, to evaluate standing fracture repair outcomes.

Richard Payne, BSc, BVSc, CertES, Dipl. ECVS, MRCVS, a surgeon and partner, and Polly Compston, BSc, BVM&S, MRCVS, a resident in clinical research, studied the short- and long-term results of fracture repair performed under standing sedation on 34 racehorses. —continued at www.theHorse.com, By Casie Bazay, BS, NBCAAM

California-Bred Flashback: Hostility

On June 15, 2002, Hostility, a daughter of Devil His Due, won the $55,000 Time to Leave Stakes at Bay Meadows Racecourse, with Solo Singer second and Proactive finishing third in a field of seven. Hostility was trained by Wesley Ward and ridden by Martin Pedroza. She ran the five furlongs in :58 seconds and won by a head at odds of 7-5. Hostility was the first of nine foals out of the Slewlede mare Nifty Slew, who also produced stakes winner Don Juan Con and stakes-placed Any Questions. The Time to Leave was Hostility's second win in three starts. She also won the Thomas J. Malley Stakes and Hancock County Handicap and finished her career with 10 wins in 46 starts and earnings of $401,829. As a broodmare, she has five foals, including stakes-placed King Samurai. Hostility was bred by Triple Crown Bloodstock and Good Guy Stables, was foaled at Running Luck Ranch in Parlier and was owned by Gerald Hannahs and Triple Crown Bloodstock.

For Any Questions On This List Please Contact: 816-238-0678

Tons: 65,185 Last Week: 20,002 Last Year: 53,425

Compared to last week: Domestic Alfalfa traded mostly steady, instances of 10.00 lower on upper quality hay in the Central Valley regions. Trading moderate to good in all regions. The Northern Intermountain regions are in full swing on cutting with the long-term weather outlook remaining clear. Producers are noting great baling conditions. Central California traded slightly slower with resistance present on all classes of hay. Imperial Valley/Blythe areas continue to trade steadily with wind exposure being an issue to some producers. Hay quality is lowering as temperatures and wind continues to affect baling. Imperial Valley and Blythe areas continue to trade steady, exporters remaining aggressive in the market. Retail/stable hay prices have leveled this past week, the only softening noted on lower qualities. Sudan grass pricing is beginning to establish, trading at similar values when compared to last year. All prices are reported FOB the stack or barn unless otherwise noted.

CTBA Magazine Update

The July 2012 issue of California Thoroughbred, the official publication of the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association (CTBA), is now into production and featured as this edition's cover story is the Old English Rancho of Buddy and Judy Johnston and Pete and Mary Hilvers that became the leading breeder in California for the 14th time in its 60-plus year history in 2011.

Besides this article, the latest magazine also includes advertorials on California's latest foal crop, including sets of six California-bred foals based at Old English Rancho, Ballena Vista Farm and Paradise Road Ranch along with a group of half a dozen youngsters bred by Judi Partridge, as well as many other feature stories of interest, such as: a wrap-up of the victory by Old English Rancho's homebred six-year-old horse Acclamation in the grade I, $250,000 Charles Whittingham Memorial Handicap at Betfair Hollywood Park on June 9, 2012; a CTBA Member Profile on trainer Bruce Headley, a 50-year member of the association who has conditioned such leading Cal-breds as Silveyville, the 1984 California Horse of the Year, fellow local champions Variety Queen, Variety Baby, Stylish Winner, Bertrando and Softshoe Sure Shot, and the 2009 grade I winner M One Rifle; a preview of Barretts Equine Limited's Paddock Sale at Del Mar—Presented by Sentient Jet—of "Race Ready" Horses of Racing Age being held at the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club on July 22; an Industry Insight piece by CTBA Director, Mary Knight, detailing the importance of choosing the proper venue for selling a horse at public auction; reviews of the winners of the two recent Golden State Series stakes races worth $100,000 each at Golden Gate Fields, namely Best Present Ever in the June 2 Campanile Stakes and Summer Hit in the June 9 Silky Sullivan Stakes; a Focus On The Future article spotlighting Sarah Simek Fitzpatrick, a graduate of Washington State University whose equine career began with the Kentucky Equine Management Internship (KEMI) program in Lexington and currently includes jobs in California with Yakutis Enterprises and the Hold Your Horses tack store; the latest chapter in the "A Blast From The Past" series, highlighting the exploits of Cal-bred Zany Tactics who set a world record of 1:06 4/5 for six furlongs during his 1987 California Champion Sprinter campaign; a Horse Care article that examines both Methicillin-Resistant Staphylococcus Aureus (MRSA) infections in horses and the related issue of antimicrobial resistance; a Guest Forum story titled "We've Got Your Number," which compares the lottery to horse racing while also offering up an idea on how an infusion of the latter into the former would be of benefit to both industries; and all the many other interesting and informative features, departments and columns that this publication's loyal readers look forward to every month.

So now is the time to secure valuable advertising space in this latest copy of California Thoroughbred, the monthly publication that remains the best medium for marketing Thoroughbred stallions, farms and businesses in the Golden State. To ensure participation in the July 2012 issue, please contact the CTBA's Advertising Manager Loretta Veiga without further delay at either Loretta@ctba.com or (626) 445-7800, extension 226. Arrangements can then be made to secure the placement in this magazine of a high quality, competitively priced advertisement that's certain to provide the maximum possible exposure to your services and/or products on offer.

We have been in business a long time together

Since 1939, the Johnston family's Old English Rancho has enjoyed considerable success, starting with their first stakes winner Ruth Lily in 1950. There have been many more success stories since, including Generous Portion, Balcony's Baby, Fleet Treat, Fleet Nasrullah and Real Good Deal. The California champions Disturbingthepeace, Above Perfection, Something Lucky, Impressive Style, Softshoe Sure Shot, Somethingmerry and Journalism, as well as stakes winners June Darling and Admirably and 2012 graded stakes winner Norvsky, were all bred by the farm. Acclamation, the Eclipse Champion Older Male and California's Horse of the Year, Champion Older Male and Champion Turf Horse, led the way for Old English Rancho in 2011.

Looking for someone to start yearlings? Listen to what people are saying about COLE RANCH.

"I thought I was saddling a four-year-old rather than a two-year-old. . . and that was on the colt's very first day at the track."

- Kristin Mulhall

"Steve consistently delivers horses that are ready to rock and roll. They are well broke in every respect and a pleasure to train."

- Mike Puype

"The last horse Cole Ranch brought us went to the main tract the next morning, galloped like a seasoned professional and was comfortable with all the little things as well."

- Kent Swazy, assistant to Eoin Harty

"Two year olds from Cole Ranch are prepared well above the norm with soft mouths and mannerly dispositions ready to begin their careers as race horses."

- Patty Harrington

"Horses from Cole Ranch are well started. They do everything they're supposed to do from day one."

- Steve Specht

"When Steve brings a horse to me, I know it will have been started correctly. They're fit and well prepared, manageable and eager."

- Howard Zucker

"Every horse Steve has trained for us has been well prepared. Our trainers have only the best things to say about him. It comes down to confidence. Steve doesn't take short cuts."

- Richard Reid, Three Cent Stables

"Steve starts all my horses. The horses always look great and behave like older horses. He takes his time and obsesses about the little things. He loves his work and it shows."

- Roger McNamara, Caro Farm
